REAL ESTATE'S PROMISE.

A curious feature of real estate quotaions is that of a time when property is ower than it has ever been before they fren represent it as far below its actual often represent it as far below its actual market value. There are practically no sales except foreclosure sales. In a large number of these cases the mortgagee is and has been the real owner, and the sale is merely a surrender of title—in many cases it is actually a surrender. Men who would otherwise attend the sales prepared to make bonagids bids remain a way because they believe that the mortgagee will not let the property go except at a bargain. The result is that very often the successful bid of the mortgagee, whose presence personally or by proxy, Co.: Mink, 10e a81 50; muskrat, 3a18e; raccoon, 5a80e; skunk, 10a80e; grey fox, 81 25a1 60; red fox, 75e a81 25; otter, $5 00 a6 00; opossum, 10a15e; wild cat, 40a50e; louse cat, 6a15e; sheep pelts, 20e a81 00. GINSENG—More active at 86a90e. Grain—This market is reported in a more active condition. We quote Wheat at $1 00a1 45; Corn., 40a15e; Oats, 30a33e; Rye, 50e; Barley, 80e.
GROURRES—A fair business is doing in this market. Our quotations are: Coffee—Good Rio quoted at 23c; prime 23½e; choice 25a26e; Java 32e; best roasted 29e; yellow Rio 25e. Syraps—Common 45a50e; prime 55a60e; New Orleans Molasses, choice 60e. Sugars—Refined, hardr crushed 12½e; A Coffee 12e; B 11½e; extra C 11½e; commercial C 11½e; yellow Ite. Rice—Carolina 51½a6e; New Orleans (July fair 9½e; prime 9½e; choice 10e.

HAY—With light receipts and an averative for the sugar prime polye; choice 10e. whose presence personally or by proxy, whose presence personally or by proxy, has frightened away all competition, is taken down by the reporters of the daily papers and published to the world without explanation, as if it were the actual market price of the property. The sales are no longer advertised in the newspapers, from a conviction that it will do no cond. The idea that the preperty will rr, from a conviction that it will do no oid. The idea that the property will bid in by the mortgagee, it is argued, is been so persistently driven into the ads of the people that nothing will ouse them to attend sales.

It is now a remarkable era in real estate transactions, in which nothing can be predicted or calculated upon with that certainty which the ordinary business man demands before investing his money. "People ask me what the tone of the market is," said the head of a well-known real estate firm yesterday. "I tell them Ican't put put my finger on it. It is the same way with rents. But wait, and we shall see. I don't say we shall see a great rise in the real estate market, but we shall see something, and that something will be definite. We are crawling now, bon't be too glowing in anything you may write, though I think we shall begin to walk npright pretty soon. If you've got $50,000 and have it in your safe you don't It is now a remarkable era in real es e man who has real property forced up-him at this time is being made rich uningly. A vast amount of property is g thrust upon men who take it be-e they know it must be that or noth-

50,000 and have it in your safe you don't want to go and get it out so long as you want to go and get it out so long as you hear somebody talking about war if somebody isn't inangurated President. On February 14 the count will be formally made, and by February 17 we shall know that there is going to be war or that there's going to be peace, or that there's going to be peace, or that there's going to be peace, or that there's going to a still longer period of uncertainty, but you are going to hold your $50,000 fast in your afee until that time at least. Uncertainty is very likely to be prolonged until March, but by April 17 we shall know something more than we do now. The feeling of capitalists is that it is best to be extremely cautious, yet, as far as I can see, the man who has real property forced upme they know it must be that or nothing. From the largest banks and insurance companies, as well as from the capilist of $500,000, there comes the same orr, that not only they can not get rid real estate, but that that which they proved themselves well rid of comes imbling back upon their hands. The me trouble often occasions even a loud-cry from men in business. Instead of titing three months' or six months obes, their customers offer them a Hobna's choice of houses and lands. But I lieve that every man who gets 'stuck,' the expression is, with real estate at the expression is, with real estate at his juncture, is receiving a blessing in leguise. This is only history repeating itself. I could mention to you numbers of men who had fortunes throat oppon them in 1842 and 1843. But they won't acknowledge it. They have grown to believe now that they, got their money by their superior shrewdness, when in fact they kicked against it as hard as they could. The history of the real estate movement is marked by two eras. One followed the commercial crash of 1837, and the other is the present. In 1837 whole lines of business would fail in one day. Confidence was utterly destroyed. Beal estate held for a little while, but soon broke and followed lighter property in a general rout. Then came three or soon broke and followed lighter property in a general rout. Then came three or four years of utter stagnation. Finally in 1841 real property began to sell again,
1842 real property bate on that time until the panic precipitated by the failure of Jay Cooke & Co. men who owned houses and lots anywhere on Manhattan Island esteemed themselves fortunate. It is the only kind of property that can withstand a panic, but it must take its turn like the reat.

"I recolleget in 1857, when the President "I recollect, in 1857, when the President Block, the | Section | Sect "I recollect, in 1857, when the President of one of our soundest banks came into my office. I was slitting with my feet on my deak talking with a prospective customer. 'How is this?' said he. 'What adoes this mean? Where's the panic?' What panic?' said I; 'I haven't seen any panic.' Real estate held its own that time. Now men have been driven to think that real estate is something risky and undesirable, whereas it is merely obeying a law of its being. It neither sinks suddenly into adversity nor rises suddenly into prosperity. The probability is that as soon as this palsy of doubt has passed its crisis there will be a movement in real estate that will be initiative of a long period of prosperous activity. In what you write on real estate matters don't make the picture too glowing. Speak very moderately. I know the feeling. You can't convince men that there is any safety in buying real estate. Write very moderately with the view of tiding over the interval between now and March. Until that time you can't benefit the market, and statements of what I believe Until that time you can't benefit the a. Until that time you can't benefit the market, and statements of what I believe to be the truth would be discounted by the long period of depression. Yet it is precisely at such periods, as your paper remarked the other day, that the foundations of great fortunes are laid."

Consumptives, Take Notice.

Every moment of delay makes your case more hopeless, and much depends on the judicious choice of a remedy. The amount of testimony in favor of Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure for Consumption, far exceeds all that can be brought to support the pretensions of any other medicine. See Dr. Schenck's Almanas, containing the certificates of many persons of the highest respectability, who have been restored to health, after being pronounced incurable by physicians of acknowledged ability. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many, as these evidences will show; but the cure is often promoted by the employment of two other remedies which Dr. Schenck provides for the purpose. These additional remedies are Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. By the timely use of these medicines, according to directions, Dr. Schenck certifies that most any gase of Consumption may be cured.
